

TAKE A NATURE WALK IN THE PARK.

Join us on the Livingston County Environmental Management Council's annual Letchworth State Park Nature Walk. Matt Nusstein, the park's Environmental Educator, will lead this year's walk from the Hogsback Overlook to Conlon's Point. You should park at the Hogsback Overlook parking lot. The Mount Morris entrance, at the north end of the park, is the closest to the Overlook parking lot. There is no gate fee after 5 pm. This event is sponsored by the EMC and the Watershed Education Committee. To sign up for this free nature walk, scan the QR code with your smartphone or go online to conesuslake.org and register there.

Attend this free park walk on Wed., July 22nd at 6 PM

After you've registered, you will receive additional information by email.
