

ANOTHER FREE PRESENTATION OF THE WATERSHED EDUCATION CENTER

The bygone canal that's still making local history.

You're invited to join Livingston County Historian Holly Watson for an in-depth exploration of the Genesee Valley Canal and its lasting impact on the communities along its route. You'll learn how vibrant towns and villages sprouted up along the path of this canal in the mid-19th century. Although it's been gone for almost 150 years, thanks to the Genesee Valley Greenway State Park, the canal route continues to draw countless thousands of bikers and hikers each year. To sign up to attend, go to conesuslake.org or use your smartphone to scan the QR code at lower left.

Attend this free program, in person or on Zoom, Wed., Jan. 14th at 6:30 PM
